Two of the smaller leaks in the Treasury war have just been closed. The new Road Supervisor and the new Prison Captain will hereafter keep their own accounts, the bookkeepers employed by their predecessors having been withdrawn from that service, thus making a saving of twice $75 per month on salaries account.

An alarm of fire was sounded about half-past eight Tuesday evening for a fire that started in the hay in Mow Kong's stables, Manukoa street. It was put out by officer Dias and a couple of men-of-war's men with buckets, but nevertheless the Fire Department were on hand in force within a very brief space after the first tap of the bell.

The Anglican Church Chronicle for August is to hand. The number opens with a leader on gambling and makes a strong demand for a cessation of the evil. The whole number is replete with the usual budget of ecclesiastical and other matters of interest not only to the Anglican body, but also to everyone who takes any stock in the ideas towards raising public opinion to a high standard of intelligence.

The steamship Australia left the Oceanic steamship's dock promptly at noon yesterday. There was a large concourse on the wharf and on the deck up to the moment of starting, so tender adieus to departing friends. The band was present and played a series of miscellaneous pieces at intervals during the half hour preceding the time of sailing. As the stately ship threw off her moorings and glided off, the band enlivened the scene with "Down the Swane River, God Save the Queen," The Star Spangled Banner, and "Hail, '87!"

Death of Mrs. Wray Taylor.

It is with much sorrow that we record the death of Mrs. Wray Taylor, wife of a fellow journalist well known to all our readers. The sad event—also untimely, for the departed lady was only 38 years of age—occurred yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Taylor had been ill for some weeks before her death. She was one of four or five young Hawaiian ladies who were taken to England by Miss Selton, founder of the Anglican Sisterhood here. Her maiden name was Miss Cronenberg; she was a relative of the late Princess Bernice Pauahi Bishop, and was adopted by Miss Selton. All her companions died, leaving Miss Cronenberg to complete her education in England, under the Sisters' care. Returning to Honolulu seven years ago, she was two years later married to Mr. Wray Taylor, at present on the editorial staff of the Hawaiian Gazette. The marriage taking place from the residence of Princess Bernice, wife of Hon. C. P. Bishop, mentioned above. Mrs.

Taylor was known to all her friends as possessing an amiable and sweet disposition, and her loss will be widely and deeply lamented in the community. Her bereaved husband, and his five motherless children, will have the heartfelt sympathy of his many friends. The late Mrs. Taylor will be buried from St. Andrew's Cathedral at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Rights of Our Queen.

Labouchere says: Dissensions amongst the Royalties respecting precedence were numerous. I was interested in the Queen of the Sandwich Islands, and admired the way in which she insisted upon her rights, which she seems to have well understood. It had been intended to give her carriage only an escort of Hussars; but she claimed her right, as "every inch a Queen," to have Life Guards, and when she had notified that she would not take part in the procession without them, she got them.

The Blue Ribbon.

The Blue Ribbon League had another fine programme on Saturday evening, as well as a large and appreciative attendance. A beautiful piano solo was played, at the opening, by Miss Barnard. Mr. Morse, Mr. Miller of the Ironcrag, Mrs. Geo. Ross and Mrs. Wm. Hopper and Mrs. Whitney, President of the W. C. T. U., took parts in the entertainment. An encore followed Mr. H. W. Morse's and Mrs. Geo. Ross' songs, Mr. Miller's violin solo and Mrs. Wm. Hopper's recitation. The League entertainments have so far succeeded in enlisting local talent, as well as levying contributions of visitors from abroad, that there seems little danger of the prediction of a short and merry existence, made at its formation, being realized.

Funeral of Mrs. Taylor.

The late Mrs. Wray Taylor was buried from St. Andrew's Cathedral at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Bishop Willis and Rev. Alex. Mackintosh conducted the services. The Anglican Sisters and the Priory pupils attended in the church. Mr. A. T. Atkinson presided at the organ, and the music comprised the hymns, "There is a Comfort Home," and "Days and Moments Quickly Fly," and a chant by Dr. A. Blow, in E minor. Mr. Taylor and the mother of his late wife were the chief mourners. Many carriages joined the sad procession to Nuuanu cemetery. The Bishop rendered the committal service at the grave. A large number of beautiful floral offerings were deposited in the narrow house by sorrowing friends of the death-stricken couple. Not until the grave was filled did the assemblage disperse.

Death of General Comely.

A Toledo, Ohio, despatch of July 26 says: General J. M. Comely, editor and proprietor of the Commercial of this city, died at 10 o'clock to-night of heart and lung trouble. General Comely had a brilliant record in the army, and after the war became editor of the Ohio State Journal. From 1877 to 1882, inclusive, he was Minister at the Hawaiian Islands.

Americans here remember General Comely with feelings of the highest esteem as a representative of his Government and fellow-citizens and in respect to his personal qualities of head and heart. To-day the Stars and Stripes will be flown at half-mast at the American Legation and the Consulate out of respect to the memory of the late ex-Minister Resident.

Rev. Mr. Oggel in San Francisco.

Rev. E. C. Oggel, late pastor of the Bethel Union, preached in the Howard-street Presbyterian Church, San Francisco, July 24th, taking Hawaiian Volcanoes for his theme. During the afternoon of the same day Mr. Oggel addressed a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. hall on religious affairs in the Islands. "With regard to the late revolution in the Islands," the report of the Chronicle says, "Mr. Oggel said but a few words. It had been quickly and satisfactorily accomplished, largely through the influence of the secular press. They were determined to have good Government there, and would have one. They needed no outside interference, and believed the Lord helped those who helped themselves."

The Firemen's Election.

The election of Chief Engineer, First Assistant Engineer and Second Assistant Engineer was held on Wednesday evening at No. 2 engine house, Union street. Mr. Henry Smith, Secretary of the Fire Department, presided at the ballot. The voting was conducted in an orderly manner, a section of the Engine Room being raised off for the presiding officers and clerks. Voters entered by the main door on Union street, passed up one side, handed their ballots over the rail and retired by the other side. A sufficient number of policemen were stationed about the building and at the doors to keep the polling place clear.

Intense excitement prevailed, but while the men exerted themselves to the utmost for the success of their respective candidates, the best of feeling seemed to prevail in the dense crowd that surrounded the polling place.

The poll closed at nine o'clock, and the votes being all counted, Mr. Smith formally announced the result of the election, as follows:

ALLOWING FIFTY VOTES TO EACH COMPANY.
For Chief Engineer: Wilson.....163
Monsarrat.....147

Majority for Wilson.....16
For First Assistant: Hostace.....164
Asche.....145

Majority for Hostace.....19
For Second Assistant: Morgan.....164
Souza.....145

Majority for Morgan.....19
Mr. Chas. B. Wilson was then formally declared elected Chief Engineer, Mr. Hostace, First Assistant, and Mr. Morgan, Second Assistant.
Vociferous cheering greeting the announcement, and the elected officers being loudly called for, took the form and delivered short speeches in which they thanked their supporters and expressed themselves determined to serve the department to the best of their ability.

W. B. M.

A meeting of the Woman's Board of Missions was held yesterday in the parlors of Fort-street Church. Devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Titus Conn. The report of the annual meeting was read and approved. The committee for sending presents to Micronesia gave a pleasing report of the making up of parcels for all the native workers on Micronesia, and acknowledged Mr. Waterhouse's generosity which enabled them to make the presents valuable. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Smith were reported still two hundred miles from their own home. Miss Mary Green was reported to have had a prosperous tour around Hawaii.

The Friend.

The August number of the Friend is to hand. This excellent monthly is evidently destined, under the new editorship, to maintain its former high standing. The recent political changes are discussed in a very clear, dispassionate manner. The Hawaiian Board department, edited by Rev. A. O. Forbes, came with an able article on "Reform needed in the Native Churches," followed by another on "Reorganization of Evangelical work among the Hawaiians," in which it is stated that the Hawaiian Board has prepared and sent on to Boston a request to the A. B. C. F. M. to resume, at this critical juncture, its relations to the Hawaiian Islands and re-organize the Sandwich Island Mission.

Passing Visitors.

The through passengers by the Mariposa utilized their stay in Honolulu by interposing the objects of interest in the city and suburbs. A party of some twelve or fifteen ladies and gentlemen were seen driving out Kailua way in a grand wagonette drawn by four prancing bays, and evidently taking in the luxuriant tropical scenery with so keen a zest that they were evidently oblivious of the dusty and rugged streets. Another party of three gentlemen went on a botanical foraging expedition, and arrived back their boots to the Gazette office, where lilies, ferns, roses, and other rare specimens were carefully rolled up in newspapers, to be sent back to friends in Eastern America. These gentlemen were profuse in their expressions of gratitude to the worthy lady who had accompanied them in the initial "Honolulu welcome," by giving them a carte blanche to the treasures of her flower garden.

Fatal Accident.

A very sad accident took place Friday at the shore battery, resulting in the death of a native belonging to the military. The royal salute was being fired as the steamer W. G. Hall, with the King on board, was passing out of the harbor. The man who was serving the vent failed to attend to his duty in the proper manner, and the salute was charged the gun. An explosion took place, blowing off the thumb of the one and both hands of the other, besides shattering him badly about the face and breast. The unfortunate man was attended by Dr. Irons, whose all was done for him that was possible, but to no avail. He was taken to the Queen's Hospital, where he died at 5 o'clock. The funeral took place Saturday forenoon at Kawaiaho Church Cemetery, and was attended by a firing party and others of the military.
